

Crick Primary School Newsletter

8th September 2016

There is an array of shiny shoes and new lunchboxes which can only mean a new school year has started! Welcome back. I hope that you all had a lovely summer.

Firstly I would like to thank the staff and children for making me feel so welcome, I have really enjoyed my first week here at Crick. I am slowly working my way through the many new names and children's faces. Hopefully some of you met Dr Watts on Tuesday. I know that she has also enjoyed getting to know the children a little. Please do come and introduce yourself as it would be great to start to put some names to faces. In the meantime, I am looking forward to working with you to ensure that your children get the best out of their short time at our school.

Classes

The children have settled back into school life well and as you walk around the school the classrooms are buzzing with the sounds of children working and getting to know their new teachers. This term the school topic is Ancient Civilisations, with each class taking a slightly different approach to their take on this. Please take a look on the school website for more information about each class' theme.

Baby news

Baby Neill has arrived! I am sure that you will join us all in sending Julie and her husband our congratulations on the safe arrival of their daughter. Baby and mum are both well and they are all enjoying spending time together as a family.

Jubilee Woods

In a few weeks the children are all going to visit Jubilee Woods to plant some wildflower seeds. I would like to thank the Wood Committee for inviting us to take part in this and also to Ms. Herrington for making sure that all of the children are involved. If you would like to join us then please talk to your child's class teacher.

New Reception children

If you have or know of a child who is due to start school in September 2017 then you may like to attend our school open day on Wednesday 12th October 2016. This is your opportunity to come and see the school running. We look forward to welcoming you into our school.
