

Crick Primary School Newsletter

17th March 2017

This week has been National Science Week and the children have all been undertaking different experiments. However, nothing could have prepared me for the noise that they created this afternoon during the Atomic Science Workshop & Show! We were wowed by a variety of experiments that involved toilet paper, a leaf blower and a variety of coloured liquids! A great way to end a very busy week!

Next week we are holding some of our Open Afternoons. Hopefully you can pop along to join us.

Books!

Thank you to all of you who attended school to have a look at your child's books. I hope that it was long enough to have a browse through some of the work that has been going on so far this year. We hope to offer this opportunity again in the summer term.

Open Afternoons

Just a reminder that each class will be holding an open afternoon session in the next few weeks. The dates of these are listed above and an email has been sent to you regarding these. We look forward to seeing you.

National Science Week

This week is National Science Week and the children have been undertaking a variety of activities to run alongside this throughout the week. Today we had a visit from Atomic Tom. Tom shared some exciting experiments with the children, some of which involved creating a hover board! The children had a fantastic time and hopefully learnt a little too!

Vacancy

We have a vacancy for a cook in your area.
Cook required
Term time only Mon-Fri
22.5 hours per week @ £8.25 per hour

E-Safety

Thank you to all of the children who created an E-Safety poster for the recent competition. Congratulations to Hermione, Amy, Bethan, Gethin and William O who all received a prize for their entry.

Life Education Bus

This will be visiting school on Monday 27th & Tuesday 28th March. Each year group will have a session in the bus along with a session for parents and carers to attend if you would like. The Life Education Bus will be selling Wristbands for £1 on these two days if any of the children would like to buy one.

Red Nose Day

On Friday 24th March we are inviting children to come to school in red clothes in return for a £1 donation for this charity. We have a small number of noses for sale, more details will follow from Mrs Morris shortly.

Concert

Thank you to Miss Simpson who gave up her evening recently so that our school choir could take part in the Concert at the Church. What a wonderful idea and opportunity for past and current pupils to showcase their talents. Thank you for the invite.

Lost Property

We currently have something resembling a small mountain range developing! If your child has 'misaid' an item of school clothing then please encourage them to delve into the depths of the box in the foyer.

Birthday Bellringers

Kate, Charlie, Ted, Isabel, Finlay, Rosie,
William, Connie

Happy Birthday!
